

International Master of Business Administration (IMBA) Learning Goals

On completion of semester one, students should be able to:

1. Analyze the global implications of multi-national decisions and demonstrate a critical awareness of complex, incomplete or contradictory information
2. Synthesize information relating to global business management issues, events and cases
3. Evaluate conceptual outcomes and practical approaches to complex situations within organizational context where affected by global issues
4. Apply problem solving techniques with autonomy, judgment and originality
5. Demonstrate critical evaluation of perspectives of leadership, clarify tasks, demonstrate commitment, negotiate and delegate in groups where the members have different cultural and educational backgrounds
6. Work and lead in a way that respects the cultural diversity of multinational and multi-language groups
7. Manage information related to business management in a global context and act autonomously
8. Solve problems and communicate original solutions at a professional level (both written and spoken) in matters related to business management in a global context
9. Operate in the complex and unpredictable context, as the global economy and exercise initiative and personal responsibility at professional level
10. Be precise and effective in applying procedures, models and techniques
11. Identify the key success factors for the management of international projects and apply these principles to the analysis of a complex business situation.